about UMW

With nearly 5,000 students in attendance and 900 faculty and staff members, the University of Mary Washington is truly a place where "Great Minds Get to Work!" This year, the adjectives "passionate", "intellectual", "innovative", and "genuine" have been used to describe the atmosphere at UMW. From the 120 student clubs to the brand-new Anderson Center, Mary Washington continues to grow and impress. The administration works hard to make sure the student voice is heard working with student senate and faculty continue to challenge these great minds to see what they can produce. Student involvement is the energy that gives this university life and this year UMW was happily energetic!

about FREDERICKSBURG

The University of Mary Washington is nestled in the heart of downtown Fredericksburg, halfway between Washington, D.C. and Richmond, Virginia. Although quaint, the town of Fredericksburg offers students a number of fun things to do off campus during the week and on weekends. Take a trip down Williams Street and pop into Hyperion, Soup and Taco, or Castiglia's for a bite to eat! On your 21st birthday, it's simply a rite of passage to hop on over to the Otter House for a drink with your friends! A stop into Sorry Mom Tattoo will leave you the only one feeling sorry, but you'll feel better after indulging in a cone of Carl's famous ice cream. No matter what suits your fancy, the city of Fredericksburg is sure to have a little something of interest you.

about ADMINISTRATION

This year, times were most exciting for the University of Mary Washington's Administration as President Richard V. Hurley was officially inaugurated as the ninth President of the University. With a grand ceremony enjoyed by a full audience in Dodd Auditorium, the UMW community was excited to mark the official beginning of President Hurley's leadership. It seemed President Hurley's journey in leadership sparked a theme for the year as Vice President of Student Affairs Doug Searcy facilitated a class on leadership development with many others.

At Mary Washington, the Administrative staff sets the tone for a friendly and welcoming community we've come to know and love. They are often seen out and about on campus spending time talking with students. In addition, they are always available to students if they have concerns or simply want to chat.

about STUDENT SERVICES

The 2nd Floor of Lee Hall is characterized by windows offering great resources for students in a 'one-stop shop' style. From the Registrar to Financial Aid, Student Services are the oil that keeps UMW running smoothly. If students are ever in need of assistance, these offices are always open to provide it. The large number of offices that fall under the Student Services umbrella is too big to count, but without these wonderful staff members working to provide necessary resources to campus, we wouldn't be able to operate as the great University we know and love.

about ACADEMICS

With the unveiling of the University of Mary Washington's new slogan, "Where Great Minds Get to Work," students and teachers were dedicated to making the University proud. As one of Virginia's most outstanding public liberal arts universities, UMW offers over 35 majors and more than 15 minors, a challenging and diverse general education courses and even the option to create your own unique major.

Besides all the wonderful and varied courses available for students, the University also employs teachers that are leaders in their fields of study who excel in bringing out the best in every student through hands-on experiments, class discussions, and real world examples.

By earning a degree at UMW, students know with certainty that they are entering the world with the skills they need not just to survive, but to thrive.

about JUDICIAL AFFAIRS

Headed by Dr. Ray Tuttle, the Office of Judicial Affairs and Community Responsibility is accountable for educating students at the University of Mary Washington about their responsibilities and rights as members of the campus community.

The Office of Judicial Affairs and Community Responsibility helps to address both on-campus and off-campus challenges through many student-driven initiatives including Judicial Review Board, or JRB, The White Ribbon Campaign, the National Society for Collegiate Scholars, and WMWC, the college's student run radio station.

JRB, led by President Evan Butler and Vice President Mohammad Mesbahi, consists of an elected President, Vice President, and five elected members from each class. The JRB functions to hear alleged violations of the University's Code of Conduct and impose sanctions on students found to be in violation of University policies. In addition, the JRB sponsors Judicial Awareness Week to keep students informed about the University policies.

about HONOR COUNCIL

Led by President Aaron McPherson and four students from each class, the Honor Council serves as the UMW's moral compass. With a strong focus on upholding the longest tradition at Mary Washington, the Honor Council strives to keep students accountable to the University Honor Code in many ways. For example, students are required to show their commitment to the Honor Code with their signature and the word 'pledge' on all assignments.

Most importantly, the University Honor Code has played a major role in the development of UMW's unique culture. Students often express comfort in leaving personal items in public spaces due to their trust in the Honor Code. In addition, students are quick to cite the University's distinctive atmosphere as their favorite aspect as an Eagle!

about STUDY ABROAD

One intrinsic part of a UMW education is the opportunity, seized often and by many, to study abroad. The mission of UMW's Center for International Education (CIE) is "to build an internationally-minded UMW community in order to prepare UMW students to be globally competent citizens," which fits right in with the University's larger message: to give students every tool they need to succeed in the world beyond college.

Through the CIE a student may choose to go on a faculty-led program, a UMW partner program, or a third-party study abroad program, depending on which program best suits a student's major, time, financial aid, and preference. For example, this year UMW faculty-led programs went to France, Spain, London, Italy, Guyana, European Capitals, and South Africa, each one course specific and taken for academic credit.

No matter where you want to go, the CIE is there to help, and not just with choosing. The CIE can also help locate scholarships, figure out Visa information, restrictions, eligibility requirements, and more. Whether you go for a month or a year, each experience is bound to open your mind and defy your expectations, just like any great college experience should.

about ATHLETICS

With over 21 successful NCAA Division III teams, it's easy to see why we are proud to be Mary Washington Eagles! Practicing around the clock, while still finding time to study, UMW's student-athletes are a great asset to the community. Specifically, throughout the 2011-2012 school year, Mary Washington Athletics has celebrated superstars from the Women's Basketball team earning a spot in the NCAA Elite Eight to several members of the Men's and Women's swim team earning All-American honors to the opening of the Anderson Center!

about CAMPUS REC

With its home in the Fitness Center and on the turf field, Campus Recreation has done a fabulous job building a stronger, more active student body. With a variety of intramural sports available it's no wonder why there have been so many yellow intramural champion t-shirts seen on campus. Intramural sports include: dodgeball, innertube water polo, flag football, beach volleyball, and kickball, to name a few.

Along with the intramural sports program, Campus Recreation also oversees Mary Washington's club sports teams. Nearly thirty teams, including ultimate frisbee, rugby, volleyball, soccer, and tennis, have achieved success in competitions across the nation. To commemorate this success, Campus Recreation has made it a point to hang celebratory banners in the Fitness Center to heighten awareness for UMW's club sports program.

about HEALTH & WELLNESS

The Health and Wellness Team is committed to building strong, independent students at Mary Washington. Including the Student Health Center, Counseling and Psychological Services, and the Fitness Center, the team provides students with a variety of resources to keep them both physically and mentally healthy. For example, each Tuesday evening the Health and Wellness Team hosts the Healthy Steps Radio program to discuss topics regarding health issues that college students may encounter. In addition, the team stocks a self-care room in Lee Hall with band aids, ibuprofen, and informational brochures, to enable students to increase their independence.

The Health and Wellness Team is supported by the Fitness Center, which provides students with access to state-of-the-art equipment. Also, the Fitness Center holds weekly fitness classes, such as Zumba and cardio kickboxing, to give students a fun and interactive space to get fit!

about DINING

No doubt about it, dining on campus has dramatically changed this year. The Nest was remodeled to make room for Chow Cafe and Wingery and Vocelli's pizza. The Wash Room was also changed. The game room was removed to make way for Joe's Stacks, which includes Starbucks coffee. The changes to dining in the Woodard Campus Center also affected the late night menu. For instance, delicious fried pickles have been added to the menu.

Though the changes to the Nest and Wash Room were dramatic, the Underground also got a makeover with the introduction of Woodstock. The Woodstock menu includes quesadillas, frozen yogurt, and the ever-popular pita chips. The menu also features a different soup each day with the most popular being red pepper gouda.

Lastly, Seacobeck was not forgotten about in the remodel. The various rooms were repainted and the diner was rearranged to make seating less like a maze.

about RESIDENCE LIFE

The Office of Residence Life, located in Marye House, is vital to making things happen at Mary Washington by creating an unforgettable experience for students. The Office of Residence Life's mission is to "provide an engaging environment that encourages the pursuit of excellence in support of the mission and vision of the University."

In addition to providing housing for students, the Residence Life staff does a great job involving students in decisions that are sure to affect the entire UMW community, such as the renovations to Randolph and Mason. With the help of an incredible staff, the Office of Residence Life makes on-campus living a smooth transition and a great experience for over 2,500 students.

about STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The 2011-2012 school year started with the division of the Office of Student Activities and Community Service (OSACS) to create the Office of Student Activities and Engagement (SAE) and the Office of Community Service. Headed by Interim Director Steven Thomas, the SAE staff helped student groups organize an overwhelming amount of events throughout the year from Rocktoberfest to Devil Goat Day, the Taking Back Sunday concert to the Mac Miller show, and Homecoming to Beak Week. In addition to advising student groups, SAE executed both Fall and Spring Orientation and the ever-popular Stress Free Zone during each finals week. The office was also instrumental in the use of Eagle Nation events, which helped pump the campus full of school spirit!

about JFMC

The James Farmer Multicultural Center, located in Lee Hall, is an important part of campus life. Along with sponsoring many groups, such as PRISM, JSA, BSA, and ASA, the Multicultural Center coordinates several events throughout the school year. For instance, the JFMC staff helps student groups organize popular events like Taste of Asia, Arab Culture Night and cultural celebrations such as Black History Month and Women's History Month. Though the Multicultural Center spends a vast amount of its time helping student leaders promote cultural awareness to the student body, the staff takes great pride in the culmination of the year's events with the Multicultural Fair, which is held in the spring. In addition to these many events, the JFMC promotes diversity at UMW with their Cultural Awareness series, which includes keynote speakers and performers such as Dr. Angela Davis and the Tai Yim Kung Fu School.

about COMMUNITY SERVICE

The strength of the sense of community at UMW has been a point of pride for students for many years. With many student groups rallied around the idea of volunteerism, a large portion of the student body is involved in service-based clubs and organizations. Specifically, the Office of Community Service, directed by Christina Eggenberger, and Community Outreach and Resources (COAR) council acts as the driver behind many service initiatives. Not only does COAR represent groups that focus on a variety of things, from tutoring local students to caring for animals at the SPCA, the group builds rapport with the Fredericksburg community by sponsoring events such as Into the Streets, Pumpkin Palooza, and the Spring Forward Festival. This year, COAR began a new tradition with the introduction of its Variety Show, which helped the group raise money for its popular Alternative Break trips.

about LEADERSHIP

Introduced this fall, the Office of Leadership and Strategic Initiatives has been working hard to increase leadership opportunities on campus and provide students with resources to enable them to build their leadership skills. Directed by Courtney Chapman Thomas, the Office of Leadership and Strategic Initiatives has developed programs, such as an etiquette dinner and the very first course focused on leadership, which was offered to students who wanted to learn about leadership while honing their skills, to enhance leadership learning at UMW. In addition, the office was even able to take a group of students to Boston, Massachusetts for an insightful Student Leadership Conference!

NEW STUDENT orientation

Starting with an energetic move-in and "Being an Eagle" rally, no one could've prepared UMW's incoming students for the slew of natural disasters that "rocked" Fredericksburg during Mary Washington's 2011 New Student Orientation. An earthquake, measuring a magnitude of 5.8, shook up campus as Orientation Leaders prepared for the arrival of new students. As students settled into their new home, Hurricane Irene struck, soaking Mary Washington and the greater Fredericksburg area.

By: Maddie Rhondeau

As students began arriving at UMW bundled up with nerves, anticipation, and excitement, New Student Orientation brought the possibility of interacting with lifelong friends for the first time. For instance, maybe you'll be in the same Orientation group as your future best man or maid of honor. No matter who you meet, it all starts at Orientation and at Mary Washington the experience is a special one.

Activities like Playfair and learning to do the Eagle Swoop helped new students gain a sense of what it means to be a UMW Eagle. The experience certainly helped build a sense of friendship and community among Orientation Leaders and orientees alike.

Along with the very first Orientation flash mob, mandatory lock-ins, due to storm advisory warnings, allowed Orientation Leaders to organize fun activities, games, and dance parties within the confines of the dorms. Mary Washington's Orientation Leaders worked tirelessly alongside the wrath of the hurricane, still hoping to give their freshmen a great Orientation experience. Irene created, essentially, giant 24-hour sleepovers, inadvertently enabling the new students to interact and engage in conversation with each other. This allowed for a unique bonding experience that will no doubt be unforgettable.

CONNECTIONS week

In order to welcome new students and returners to a brand-new fall semester, Meet the Leaders Barbeque, Cross Cultural Barbeque, Club Carnival, and Community Action Fair combine for a crash course in UMW involvement known as Connections Week.

Held in the Great Hall, the Meet the Leaders Barbeque was a chance for new and returning students to meet UMW's student leaders. With some good food and light dancing, students had an amazing time networking with one another. Particularly, student leaders included Honor Council President Aaron McPherson, Student Government Association President Ashley Nixon, and PRISM President Jack Pando, to name a few.

Hosted by the James Farmer Multicultural Center, the Cross Cultural Barbeque was held on Ball Circle this year where students were welcomed by all the multicultural student groups on campus. The perfect weather and delicious food gave student the opportunity to explore the multicultural options offered on campus.

A few hours of sunshine and fun was spent on Ball Circle as 120 tables featured student clubs and organizations as well as various vendors from the Fredericksburg area. This amazing event introduced new students to the Mary Wash experience, enabling them to get involved and meet new people!

Under the hot summer sun, students got to know the volunteer opportunities available in and around Fredericksburg at the Community Action Fair. C.O.A.R. Council was available to help connect students with their weekly volunteer opportunities, including Best Buddies, SPCA, and Stafford Junction.

BE A KID night

With volunteers donned in orange Nickelodeon-themed shirts complete with green slime, this year's Be a Kid Night gave Mary Washington students the opportunity to let loose and remember what life was like as a child of the '90s.

Taking over most of Lee Hall, Be a Kid Night opened with comedian Seaton Smith, who set the mood for an energetic night of '90s karaoke. Students then rocked the Underground with their favorite Britney Spears, Backstreet Boys, Destiny's Child, and N*Sync songs, to name a few.

In addition to Seaton Smith and karaoke, Be a Kid Night featured a balloon artist, glitter tattoos, old school video games, t-shirt and frisbee spin art, and sandy candy. Outside, students could enjoy a cookout of hot dogs, hamburgers, and veggie burgers that included both funnel cakes and cotton candy.

Throughout the night, students came alive talking about their favorite fad toy, with Furby and Tamagotchi at the top of the list, their favorite musical artist, and their favorite television shows. Overall, the night drew the largest crowd ever realized by the event, making it a tradition that is sure to stick for years to come.

On the tenth anniversary of September 11, 2001, students, faculty, and staff gathered on Palmieri Plaza to commemorate the tragic events that took place that day. For many of the students in attendance, the day represents one of incomprehensible terror. For the faculty and staff, the day represents an inconceivable amount of fear. On this day in 2011, these groups gathered to share their stories and remember the day that changed our lives forever.

Several students took to the steps of Monroe Hall to share their personal stories. Poems were read, songs were sung, and stories were told. In addition to hearing from students, the audience heard Rear Admiral John N. Christenson, U.S. Navy, speak of his experiences within the Pentagon. His story touched those in attendance and allowed for a perspective unseen by many. President Hurley also spoke of when he heard of the attacks. Specifically, he was on Mary Washington's campus in George Washington Hall.

At the conclusion of the presentations, students lit their candles and took a moment to silently remember the day that had changed their lives forever; September 11, 2001.

FAMILY weekend

All those who needed a real meal and a hug from mom and pop looked forward to Family Weekend. This year Mary Washington's Family Weekend hosted a number of fun activities for the entire family, such as the Club Showcase, Study Abroad Fair, and a Tour of Brompton. At these hallmark events, students are able to visit with their family while parents can take comfort in what every day at Mary Washington is like for their student.

As Mary Washington students develop their interests, expand their knowledge, and explore their potential, Family Weekend allows parents to witness the development of their student's own identity.

PRESIDENT HURLEY'S inauguration

This year Richard V. Hurley was inaugurated as the ninth president of the University of Mary Washington. On September 30th, afternoon classes halted to allow faculty and students to attend the inauguration ceremony in Dodd Auditorium. The faculty donned their robes and lined Campus Walk as the procession walked through. The procession was led by delegates from other colleges and universities, followed by student representatives Alyssa Clifford, Nicholas DeSarno, Luisa Dispenzirie, Katherine Johnson, Laura Allan, Aaron McPherson, Lea McLaughlin, Charles Girard, Evan Butler, Robert Belcourt, and Mandi Solomon. Concluding the process was President Hurley himself.

The ceremony itself included speeches from a variety of people. The most memorable speech was by one of President Hurley's friends, Stefanos Gialamas, president of American Community Schools of Athens, Greece. Gialamas alluded to the many years and two presidents leaving before President Hurley was made official in his role.

Ashley Nixon, president of the Student Government Association, congratulated President Hurley. She shared her own personal experiences with President Hurley, which made for a unique speech.

That night the Inaugural Ball was held in the brand-new Anderson Center. The President and his wife opened the dance floor with a memorable first dance. Family, friends, faculty, staff and students attended to join in the night of celebration.

Into the Streets was created for students to volunteer in the streets of Fredericksburg and give back to the local community. This year's event featured nine different volunteer opportunities that students could choose. From helping plant a garden at Chatham Manor to visiting senior citizens at Greenfield, there was a project for everyone. Over seventy-five students volunteered for the wonderful event making it a fun and successful day!

ROCKTOBER fest

This traditional Class Council and Giant Productions event was held on October 7th on Ball Circle. Students enjoyed listening to the sounds of Up the Chain and the Brian Jarvis Band while they picked up some pulled pork, hush puppies, and macaroni and cheese from Virginia BBQ. Class Council provided free Rocktoberfest cups so students could easily enjoy fruit punch, iced tea, and water. This iconic event had over two hundred students in attendance as they spent time with their friends on Ball Circle on a fantastic fall day.

HAHAS FOR tatas

Having outgrown the Underground, this year's Hahas for Tatas was held in the Great Hall to raise money and collect bras for the Y-ME Breast Cancer Foundation. This student-run comedy show opened with the American Strong Woman, Mama Lou. Following Mama Lou, ten student comedians braved the stage to fill two hours with hysterical comedy.

For a touch of creativity, the stage was decorated with over two hundred bras that were collected across campus throughout the month of October. Also, most impressively, the event raised over $600 to support the fight against breast cancer. With students standing along the walls, it was pretty clear that the event was an overwhelming success!

During this year's Alternative Fall Break, students went to the Eastern Shore of Virginia to volunteer with Habitat for Humanity. Activities included hanging dry wall, installing bathroom appliances, and laying foundation. The students stayed at a local church and worked on site for three days helping to provide affordable housing to the impoverished in Exmore, Virginia.

In addition to working with Habitat for Humanity, this year's group went to Chincoteague Island to enjoy watching wild ponies run up and down the beach. Overall the trip achieved its goal of mixing fun and service!

GLBTTQQIAAP celebration

This year's GLBTTQQIAAP Celebration, themed "Stand Out, Speak Up!" truly lived up to its name. Starting with the incredibly fun kickoff full of food, conversation, and plenty of 'post secrets,' the 3rd annual celebration was stronger than ever before.

Following the celebration's kickoff, PRISM sponsored a "Fight for Your Rights" panel discussion where students, faculty, and staff discussed how the community can fight for their rights on campus. The discussion also included a debate about 'protected classes', during which members of PRISM presented different arguments on whether or not sexual or gender identity should be protected classes.

Students continued the celebration at PRISM Prom, which had a Rio Carnival theme, where they danced the night away. Then they laughed and cried at the Queer Film Festival which featured "Milk," a film about the true life of Harvey Milk, the first openly gay person to be elected to a public office and "The Birdcage," a comedy based on the French play "La Cage Aux Folles".

The most unforgettable and amazing moment of the entire celebration came from the performance by queer slam poet, Andrea Gibson. The performance packed Lee Hall 411 with a combination of entertainment and inspiration.

HOMECOMING weekend

Presented by the Student Government Association, the homecoming carnival was a great way for students to kickoff a Homecoming weekend full of fun activities and athletic events. Held on Ball Circle, the carnival featured a wide variety of activities including a rollercoaster-themed obstacle course. Students were able to enjoy hot dogs, hamburgers, veggie burgers, and funnel cakes along with gladiator jousting and a baseball pitching cage.

The biggest attraction of the day was the "Extreme Bungee Jump." Provided by the UMW Alumni Class of 1998, students were able to jump as high as possible off trampolines while strapped into a harness. The harness allowed the most daring participants to do flips and twists to make for an exciting attraction.

As the first concert in the Anderson Center, Giant Productions delivered with an enthralling lineup, featuring Bad Rabbits, The Maine, and Taking Back Sunday. The Bad Rabbits were an exciting start to the night. Their energy transferred to the crowd, which carried throughout the entire night. After the Bad Rabbits set, The Maine took the stage to rock the Anderson Center with their most recently released songs. By the end of The Maine's performance, the crowd was fully energized for Taking Back Sunday. Taking Back Sunday certainly delivered as the crowd danced and cheered, making it for a wonderful first night of Homecoming!

Halloween weekend invites Mary Wash students to assume a different identity and wow friends with a daring, scary, or knockout costume. Ghouls, goblins, ghosts, "little monsters", and bananas roamed the Mary Washington campus while participating in the popular event, Halloweens. Located in Lee Hall, students partook in Scary-oke following a mind blowing show by the ever-popular mentalist, Craig Karges. The event also offered a haunted house, fortune telling, face painting, apple cider, and a showing of Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part One!

For Mary Washington students, October 31st wasn't spent trick-or-treating around Fredericksburg, but in the Great Hall experiencing the Noisy College Tour featuring Kreayshawn and Neon Indian. This surprise concert shocked and excited students, enabling Giant Productions to draw a crowd of over 300 students. As the night went on, the crowd begged for Kreayshawn's famous "Gucci Gucci" song, which she gladly delivered. Following Kreayshawn, Neon Indian took the stage to finish the concert, leaving the crowd happier than before. At the end of the night it was clear that Halloween at Mary Washington had never been so loud!

The Multicultural Center's Taste of Asia filled the Great Hall with only standing room available for latecomers. Held November 4th, the night included a fashion show featuring traditional dress worn by women in Japan, Korea, Vietnam, India, and Afghanistan. Following the fashion show, the Korean Foreign Exchange Program choreographed a dance to a Korean pop song by KARA called "Step" and Eagle Bhangra performed a large group number as well. The night ended with a delectable assortment of international foods for both the performers and audience members to enjoy, including Namik (vegetables), Hepari Nengche (jellyfish salad), Yubu Chobab (tofu sushi), and Bugogi (marinated beef). Whether metaphorically or literally, everyone in the audience definitely got a "taste" of all the wonders Asia has to offer that night.

Sponsored by the Jewish Student Association/Hillel and the James Farm Multicultural Center, this year's Jewish Cultural Celebration centered on the theme: "Law Versus Tradition: The Cultural Lines in Judaism." This six evening celebration was gave Mary Washington an interesting view into Jewish culture and traditions.

By: Nancy Bell

JEWISH CULTURAL celebration

Starting off the celebration was Israeli Folk Dancing, Mandi Solomon taught students both traditional and modern Israeli dances while they snacked on rugelach, a traditional Jewish pastry filled with raisins and sugar that appeared at many events throughout the celebration. Following the Israeli folk dancing lessons, JSA sponsored a showing of "The Frisco Kid," a comedy about a Polish rabbi's adventure through the old west.

At Trivia Judaica, students tested their knowledge on a variety of Jewish topics, ranging from food to pop culture to common yiddish phrases.

UMW's own Dr. Emile Lester lead a discussion entitled, "Laws Meet Jewish Life". Throughout her presentation, Dr. Lester explored the influence of Judaism on the domestic and foreign policies of the United States as well as the influence of Judaism historically and currently on the United States government.

As the keynote speaker for the celebration, Roya Hakakian, a renowned poet and filmmaker, discussed her time growing up as a Jewish teenager in post-revolutionary Iran.

The celebration was capped off with a traditional Shabbat Dinner, held at sundown on Friday night. Shabbat, which ends at sundown on Saturday, marks the beginning of the Sabbath. Shabbat Dinner gave students the opportunity to relax with family and friends.

MR. umw

Hosted by the Association of Residence Halls, Mr. UMW is an honored tradition that all of campus comes out to watch. In order to win this highly coveted position, a night of fun and friendly competition is held in Dodd Auditorium. This year, with a "bad boys" theme, the competitors danced, showcased their unique talents, and strutted their stuff to win over the crowd and, perhaps more importantly, the judges.

After taking all that was presented into account, the judges narrowed the competition down to the top three: Mr. Apartments Andrew Hogan, Mr. Eagle Landing South Jeff Branson, and Mr. Framar Michael Drayer. With his impressive dance to a medley of Justin Timberlake songs, Mr. Apartments Andrew Hogan was chosen as this year's Mr. UMW!

FALL fest

Now becoming an annual tradition for the Underground Programming Council, Fall Fest delivered great Friday night entertainment for UMW students. Held on Veterans Day, UPC was sure to offer military-inspired activities to support the troops. The event featured photo dog tags, customized dry erase boards, spin art shutter shades, caricaturists, and the ever popular build-a-bear. Students were encouraged to make donations to the USO to show their support of the United States Armed Forces.

To add to the festivities, attendees could enjoy hot caramel apple cider, apple pie, and sandy candy to feed their sweet tooth.

In addition to fun activities, Fall Fest was made home to the very first Underground Spelling Bee. Students competed for Eagle One money by spelling many commonly misspelled words. The Spelling Bee was such a success it is likely to join bingo, acoustic night, and trivia as a staple event held weekly in the Underground.

LEADERSHIP conference

At the 5th Annual Leadership Conference, held in the Woodard Campus Center, over one hundred students learned the building blocks to become better leaders. Starting off the morning with a delicious breakfast, the conference kicked off with an introduction by Director of Service Christina Eggenberger. Graduate Assistant Meg DeMaria then explained the Do One Thing (d.o.t.) Campaign and charged those in attendance to pledge to do one thing each day to promote sustainability.

Following the introduction, students had the option of picking a break-out session that best fit their needs. After two sessions students were encouraged over to the Faculty/Staff dining room for a wonderful lunch. From there, students had the opportunity to have roundtable discussions with UMW professionals, including the Chief of Staff, Vice President of Student Affairs, and the Dean of the College of Business, to name a few. During that time, students asked the professionals questions regarding their own leadership experiences.

BHANGRA beat

Hosted by the International Living Community and Eagle Bhangra, the Seventh Annual Bhangra Beat was bigger than ever before! Eagle Bhangra and seven visiting universities, including the University of Virginia, James Madison University, the College of William and Mary, and Virginia Commonwealth University, displayed their best dance moves to win over the judges. Judging was not only based on skill, technique, and creativity, but also the connection to culture. Therefore, in addition to the competition itself, the event included a description of the history of Bhangra and the symbolism of the clothing worn. Overall, these factors combined to make the event a wonderful success!

ISLAMIC CULTURAL celebration

The Islamic Student Association and the James Farmer Multicultural Center made a success of this year's Islamic Cultural Celebration, themed "Islam through the Ages." The first event, Henna Night, drew a large crowd, as students came to the Great Hall to have henna designs applied. The Islamic Student Association displayed a presentation about the history behind henna and its different styles. The following night, a documentary, titled Islam and Science, presented the history behind the great leap in scientific knowledge, which occurred in the Islamic world between the 8th and 14th centuries. The final night combined the Islamic Cultural Banquet with a fantastic inventions display. The Islamic Cultural Banquet keynote speaker was Imam Yahya Hendi, who is the Muslim chaplain at Georgetown University. Traditional Middle Eastern food was provided and an inventions display showcased the contributions Islam has made to the world. Some of the contributions included algebra, medicine, poetry and paper, to name a few. The event drew a large crowd, ranging from students, faculty, members of the Fredericksburg community, and UMW president, Richard Hurley.

RISE OF eagle nation

With the completion of the Anderson Center, the "Rise of Eagle Nation" was born. Celebrating the first doubleheader in the building for the men's and women's basketball teams, hundreds of UMW students came out to support their fellow Eagles.

The day started with a tailgating party, hosted by Dining Services, in front of Jepson, which got students excited for the event. In addition to serving UMW students, the tailgate enticed members of the faculty, staff and their families to come out to be a part of the spirited day. In addition, kids from the community stopped by to see the games and get their pictures taken with the players and Sammy D. Eagle.

Free t-shirts, foam Eagle claws, and rally towels, attendees swarmed the stands for the best seats to watch the games. Rise of Eagle Nation was capped off with wins for both teams.

STRESS free zone

Nothing is better when you are stressed out from final exams than getting a chance to paint, color, craft, eat snacks and revert back to your childhood. Fortunately, these activities were exactly what students were able to do at Stress Free Zone during the first three days of finals week.

With sugar cookies and icing provided by Sodexo, Nutella, hot cocoa, and childhood favorites like Dunk-A-Roo's, fruit gummies and juice boxes, students could treat themselves to delicious snacks perfect for keeping up their energy after pulling an all nighter.

On the crafty side of things, Stress Free Zone featured spin art puzzles, fusible beads, sun-catchers, and coloring, among the various craft projects that one could make and take.

Stress Free Zone, sponsored by the Office of Student Activities and Engagement, was a big hit and a great break from the stresses of finals week.

SPRING orientation

This spring, UMW welcomed over one hundred new and transfer students. The incoming residential students in the group moved into their assigned halls on Thursday and the incoming commuter students joined the group on Friday. The new students went through a condensed version of Orientation that contained the highlights of the Fall Orientation information sessions and activities.

Friday new students had a chance to talk to various Department Chairs, as many were transfer students most interested in diving right in to their academic load at UMW. During down time, students were able to participate in the UMW tradition of making tie-dye t-shirts. Friday night, new students joined their Orientation Leaders for a fun night of bowling.

WINTER carnival

The 3rd annual Winter Carnival, hosted by the Underground Programming Council, was another successful event in Lee Hall. From glitter and airbrush tattoos to a nice cup of hot chocolate, students enjoyed their time spent on the 2nd floor while others played a round of mini golf on the 4th floor. For a lucky few, achieving a hole-in-one meant winning of UPC's famous casino night cups or $5 in Eagle One money.

The Underground featured Fabulous Feud, a rendition of the popular television game show Family Feud. Within 3 hours over 20 groups of 4 to 5 students competed in to see which "family" came out on top of the three round games.

Overall, this successful carnival boosted students' spirits as a way to celebrate the second week of the spring semester.

This spring the Historic Preservation Club hosted its annual Victorian Ball. During the day of the ball, students had the option of participating in dance lessons to learn traditional 19th century dances that were to be performed during the ball.

When the time came for the Ball to begin, about 100 students entered the Great Hall, the majority decked out in 19th century costumes. The dance itself featured a band and caller to play the traditional music and help students with the dances. Before each dance, the caller demonstrated each step of the dance to ease some nerves in the crowd.

As the night went on, it became clear that the most popular dances for the students was the Virginia Wheel.

BLACK HISTORY month celebration

Held each February, the James Farmer Multicultural Center always makes a lasting impression with the celebration of Black History Month. This year, Black History Month saw a spectrum of events that covered everything from a Caribbean steel drum band to the Annual Step Show Competition. Out of all the events held throughout the month, the most notable was keynote speaker Angela Davis. As an activist, educator, and author, Davis was able to captivate her audience to draw a crowd of nearly 200 people. The event also drew great support from members of the surrounding Fredericksburg community to make UMW's Black History Month Celebration a success!

SENIOR countdown

Senior Countdown celebrates the mark of 100 days until the senior class graduates from our beloved UMW. Every year Class Council celebrates this 100 day countdown by holding a casino night for the seniors to win as much play money as possible.

At the end of the night, seniors are able to bid on items like tickets to King's Dominion, gift certificates to Chipotle and The Melting Pot, Spring Formal tickets, and much more. This year's big ticket item, a flat screen tv, brought a final bid of $3 million! With "cash" like that the seniors sure had a lot to celebrate.

The Annual Film and Arts Festival was no ordinary Sundance-style screening. Featuring 5 short films and musical performances, the night was more than magical! For the first time, One Note Stand, Eagle Bhangra, Alter Egos, and Encore performed on the same stage in Dodd Auditorium. Along with the musical performances and film showings, the night was tied together with the comedic stylings of Kyle Phalen and Maura Monahan. Throughout the night audience members were chosen at random and given prizes just for being there, adding even more excitement. At the end of the night, the top three film winners were awarded with a golden trophy, ending the night on a high point!

DRAG show

Music, dancing, and...the end of the world? This year the 12th annual Drag Show carried a "Dragpocalypse" theme, organized by Mary Washington's People for the Rights of Individuals of Sexual Minorities (PRISM), covered in sequins and glitter. This year's Drag Show featured the ever-popular host, Britney Queers, and five extraordinary performances by Adora Derriere, Queen Frostine, Oliver Clothesoff with Jacques Strap, Lizabette Mannelli, and last year's winner, Gigi Bouton. As a highlight of the night, newcomer Lizabette stole the show with her incredible stage presence and a whimsical take on classic show tunes, making her this year's winner.

INVISIBLE CHILDREN

date auction

As one of the most highly anticipated events on campus, this year's Invisible Children Date Auction did not disappoint. Mary Washington students flocked to the Great Hall to donate in support of the fight against the use of child-soldiers in war-torn Uganda. In addition to supporting this cause, the Date Auction also offered students a chance at a date with one of their fellow classmates. The students who bid the most money would win a date for two, causing the great competition when it came time to bid! Dressed in their best, over twenty students walked the stage in support of this great cause.

WOMEN'S HISTORY

month celebration

The month of March was packed with activities, guest speakers, and special events in recognition of Women's History Month. The highlights of the celebration included a keynote presentation by Dr. Danielle McGuire and the two-night presentation of the Vagina Monologues, which was written by Eve Ensler about various issues facing women in their lifetime. In addition to these thought-provoking events, a photo exhibit featuring the work of contemporary artist Anne Leighton Massoni played into the powerful celebration of women as it was open to the public for the entire month in UMW's Simpson Library. With the combined effort of dedicated students and faculty, it is clear that this year's Women's History Month Celebration was a success.

ALTERNATIVE spring break

This year, COAR's three Alternative Spring Break trips went to Wilmington and Newland, North Carolina, and Cookeville, Tennessee to volunteer with Habitat for Humanity. 43 UMW students participated in the week-long trips to help build affordable homes for those in need. The Wilmington group installed soffit, put up siding, nailed shingles on the roof, and learned how to do some electrical work. They were located near the beach and enjoyed spending time there, despite the chilly weather! The group in Newland installed scaffolding, dug trenches for sewer pipes, and constructed a foundation, making for very tiring work. For their free day, the group hiked the beautiful Grandfather Mountain, which features a mile-high swinging bridge. The group in Cookeville worked at the local Habitat Resale Store and on a house. Half of the group built a new deck entrance with a wheelchair ramp at the store and the other half painted the inside of the house. The Tennessee group also took a day off to help with tornado relief in a neighboring county. Some homes were left unscathed, others were flattened. Overall, all three trips made an impact on the local communities and built friendships that are sure to last long after Spring Break memories fade away.

BEAK week

Following Spring Break, the Student Government Association flooded campus with UMW swag from sunglasses and blankets to keychains and t-shirts. In addition to swag, each day of Beak Week featured an event to celebrate what it means to be an Eagle. On Wednesday, the Association of Residence Halls hosted Mr. UMW All-Stars to showcase the best of the best participants from past Mr. UMW competitions. Friday featured a Habitat for Humanity picnic table build and a Silent Rave on Ball Circle that evening. The week was culminated with the spring Rise of Eagle Nation event on Saturday! Overall, the week was the perfect way to get students energized for the rest of the spring semester!

LAWLZ for ballz

Inspired by Hahas for Tatas, UPC, along with the Biology Club, hosted Lawlz for Balls to raise awareness and money for the eradication of testicular cancer. Several student comedians performed in the Great Hall to an audience of over 200. At the end of the night, the first ever comedy show for testicular cancer raised over $300. The night characterized by gut busting laughter paved the way for one of Giant Production's comedian acts, Kyle Kinane!

SPRING RISE of eagle nation

Eagle Nation rose again in the spring as the capstone event of SGA's Beak Week. Held during a double header for both the softball and baseballs teams, Spring Rise of Eagle Nation drew a large crowd of both students and members of the Fredericksburg community. Specifically, the event drew the attention of local little leaguers as they had the chance to have baseballs and softballs signed by UMW's players! Another highlight of the event featured a raffle. Attendees were able to win gift cards, an iPod touch, and an attention-grabbing iPad. Overall, the gorgeous weather combined with the excitement of the games and a free cookout made for a wonderful event that is sure to become a staple at UMW.

FESTIVAL of colors

Held by the Asian Student Association, the Framar International Living Community, and Eagle Bhangra, the Holi Festival of Colors made a huge splash on Ball Circle. The Festival is traditionally celebrated all over South Asia to celebrate the onset of springtime. The event drew a large crowd as students threw colored powder and water at one another, making for a very exciting and unique experience.

JUNIOR RING week

Filled with laughter and pranks, the juniors survived Junior Ring Week like champions. From watching The Breakfast Club in the Great Hall to participating in the traditional Scavenger Hunt, the week's activities were nothing but superb. The week was concluded with the traditional Junior Ring Ceremony, which was attended by many of the student's friends, professors, and family members who showed their support during the memorable event. Following the ceremony, the juniors were invited to enjoy tapas on Lee Hall Terrace. The evening was filled with light hors d'oeuvres and jazz music that ended the week on a great note!

CARNIVAL inc.

On Friday, March 30th, Ball Circle was filled with the music of Elby Brass and local Fredericksburg rapper, Cane. The exciting event, Carnival, Inc., was sponsored by UMW Entrepreneurs, Marketing Club, and Future Business Leaders of America. The groups' collaboration drew a large crowd to Ball Circle with activities including a Dunk-Your-Professor Tank, t-shirt tie dying, soccer and cornhole tournaments, and seemingly endless raffles. Ultimately, UMW's students spoke highly of the event and hope it becomes a springtime tradition for years to come!

SHH VOLLEYBALL & zumbathon

On March 31st, Students Helping Honduras hosted its 4th Annual Volleyball Tournament to fundraise for poor and impoverished orphans and families in Honduras. This year's Volleyball Tournament brought in over 100 players and countless spectators to Ball Circle. Teams battled it out on a beautiful sunny day in the hopes of being crowned champions of the tournament. The day was filled with food, fun, raffles, and of course, lots of fundraising!

The day after the volleyball tournament, SHH hosted their very first Zumbathon in the Great Hall in their continued effort to raise funds to help Hondurans in need. Instructors from all over the area helped the group lead the event as they took turns dancing on stage to fast-paced, energizing music. By incorporating several types of dance, including salsa, meringue, hip-hop, and even martial arts, SHH and the volunteer instructors were able to make a fun and contagious aerobic dance workout program. The event attracted over 50 participants who left the Great Hall hoping for many more Zumba events in the future!

MARY washicon

A combined effort of several clubs, including Jade, UMW Fencing, Orpheum, Children of Time, Renaissance Club, and Critical Hit, this year's annual Mary Washicon event turned out to be a great success. As an all day event, Mary Washicon featured film screenings, a variety of video games, panel discussions, including 'Webcoming' and even fencing demonstrations. Led by UMW students and professors, the event provided the campus community with a great time! Ultimately, this successful collaboration earned all clubs involved the bragging rights for the 'Outstanding Cosponsored Program of the Year' at the Student Leadership Awards!

MULTICULTURAL fair

The 20th Annual Multicultural Fair, held on April 14th, brought UMW students, faculty, and staff together with members of the Fredericksburg community for a day of performances and fun. Spreading from Monroe Hall to George Washington Hall, the event took over campus with a variety of food vendors, artisans, and local non-profit groups. Featuring performances from many student groups, including Eagle Bhangra, Alter Egos Step Team, and Praise Dance, and local performing groups, the day certainly had no lull in entertainment. All in all, this year's Multicultural Fair met expectations as another great success for the hardworking James Farmer Multicultural Center.

SPRING formal

As one of the most talked about events, this year's Spring Formal certainly lived up to the hype. Intrigued by the top-secret location, only to be revealed upon arrival at the venue, students flocked to buy tickets to this unforgettable event. On April 20th, attendees congregated on Double Drive to board trolleys to transport them to the unknown location. After a quick ride, the group arrived at the beautiful Fawn Lake Country Club in Spotsylvania, Virginia. The night was filled with delicious food, energetic music, and, most importantly, good company. Students danced the night away, making for an event they are sure to remember for years to come.

SPRING tling

The 2nd Annual Spring Fling, hosted by the Underground Programming Council, made its splash on Ball Circle. With over 400 students in attendance, students could enjoy a barbeque complete with funnel cakes and popcorn, make wax hands or spin art shutter shades, a customized koozie, or take pictures in the popular photo booth. Students could also create a 'dancing heads' music video to their favorite song. While all of these items drew in the crowd, the showstopper was no doubt the foam dance party. Students entered a blown up dance floor to dance in the suds to popular songs like Carly Rae Jepsen's 'Call Me Maybe' and LMFAO's 'Sexy and I Know It'.

DAY OF silence

On April 20th, UMW was awash in a sea of red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and purple shirts as PRISM had distributed 1,000 shirts proclaiming, "UMW Does Not Discriminate," to students, faculty, and staff of the University. Around noon, in observance of the nationwide Day of Silence, many joined hands on Ball Circle in a silent vigil to call attention to the silencing effect of anti-LGBT bullying and harassment in schools. The day concluded with a "Break the Silence" Barbecue and Open Mic Night on Ball Circle, which epitomized the distinctive UMW culture that boasts acceptance of all types of people, which drives the overwhelming sense of community for the student body.

Beginning early in the year, the third annual Relay for Life encouraged nearly 500 participants to form teams and fundraise over $46,000 to fight back against all forms of cancer throughout the school year. On April 21st and 22nd, Relay for Life gave UMW a place to celebrate those ones who have beat cancer as well as remember those who have lost their lives in the fight. This year, the event continued its fundraising effort by throwing whipped cream pies at members of the Relay Planning Committee, holding buffalo wing and pancake eating contests, and the ever-popular Mr. Relay pageant. In addition to the fundraising efforts, teams kept participants energized by sponsoring mini-events, such as sunrise yoga, energy drink pong, and a flip cup tournament.

Amidst all the fun, Relay remained focused on its cause with constant reminders of the event's purpose. For instance, the Luminaria Ceremony made a great impact on participants as they walked silently among glowing bags that displayed the names of those to be honored for their bravery in the face of cancer.

Overall, Relay for Life was once again triumphant in bringing together the many diverse groups represented at UMW to fight for this one great cause.

DEVIL goat day

This year the long-standing traditional day of competition between the Devils (represented by members of odd-numbered graduating years) and the Goats (made up of students graduating on even-numbered years) could not be stopped by the threat of thunderstorms. Moved from Ball Circle to the Anderson Center, Devil Goat Day featured View from the Top from Richmond, Virginia, which fueled the energy of those in attendance. In addition to the band, students could compete against each other on a rotating log, a wobbly ladder, or in an inflatable dodgeball arena. While these games filled the arena, free pizza and the ever-popular t-shirts and cups were given out near the concession stand. With all the excitement, students seemed to forget about their rainy days blues and enjoyed this great UMW tradition!

STRESS free zone

According to many UMW students, the highlight of each finals week is Stress Free Zone. Held in the Great Hall during the first three days of finals, students were able to take a break from studying or reward themselves after a particularly challenging exam with relaxation and fun. Along with the usual activities, including sun-catcher painting, coloring, snacks, and fuse beads, Spring Stress Free Zone was highlighted by t-shirt tie dying and the presence of therapy dogs. Brought in by volunteers from Rappahannock Area Comfort Canines, the dogs were a big hit and drew in the largest crowd the event has ever seen! All in all, students left the Great Hall feeling relaxed and ready to face finals week with confidence.

GRAD ball

This traditional Mary Washington event made for an unforgettable night for the 2012 graduating class as the Great Hall was buzzing with energy as local Fredericksburg favorite, Elby Brass, made its much-anticipated appearance. For hours seniors danced with their friends while they celebrated their accomplishments. When students weren't dancing they enjoyed light hors d'oeuvres, desserts, and refreshments. In addition to the fun and food, students were astounded by the elegant transformation of the Great Hall, which was highlighted by white drapery and colorful lights. With only days away from graduation, Grad Ball provided the perfect place to make memories before the seniors became Alumni.

GRADUATION 2012

The most important day finally arrived for the Class of 2012 as the 101st Commencement began with parents arriving for seats as early as 6am. The joyous day started for the graduates by as they lined up near Jefferson Square in preparation for the traditional procession down Campus Walk to Ball Circle. Keynote speaker Neil Howe, the man who coined the term "Millennial Generation", gave a thought-provoking speech that will surely be remembered. Shortly after the conclusion of Mr. Howe's speech, it was time for seniors to take the stage to receive their hard-earned diplomas. Friends, family, and UMW faculty cheered as the students made their way across the stage. Following the wonderful ceremony, seniors, with diplomas in hand, rushed out of their seats to join their families and friends. Greeted by warm smiles and big hugs, seniors embraced their new identity as UMW Alumni.

OPEN MIC night

Open Mic Night, taking place each Tuesday in the Underground, is an event that draws a variety of students as they jump at the chance to showcase their talents, whether it be singing, reciting poetry, or playing an instrument. Along with the student performances, each Open Mic Night brings a featured up-and-coming artist to make for a memorable experience for those in attendance. This year, the most successful featured acts included Diego Val, Darrelle London, Austin Renfroe, and Washington DC native Levi Stephens. Perhaps the most intriguing part of this event is the chance to spend time with the performers before and after their performance as many artists who have been featured in the Underground have gone on to grace the stage of popular television musical competitions, such as The Voice and The Sing Off.

BINGO night

Since the introduction of weekly bingo nights, Wednesday has easily become the most popular night for students to spend in the Underground! Bingo, hosted by the Underground Programming Council (UPC), has certainly made UMW students happy by offering both entertainment along with great prizes, such as the ever-popular blenders, crock pots, vacuums, iPods, board games and more. Although the step down of UMWs favorite caller, Chris Vellucci, in the spring semester was disappointing for regular bingo-goers, it gave other students, including Tommy Campbell, Jeremy Thompson, and David Hart, the opportunity to steal the spotlight. President Hurley even hosted the event, drawing the largest crowd of the year! All in all, it is clear this staple event is here to stay as students continue to rave about it week in and week out.

TRIVIA & game shows

Having gained popularity this year, Thursday Night Trivia in the Underground was not taken lightly by participants. Students came in droves to test their knowledge on anything from 90s pop culture to the much anticipated Harry Potter and superhero trivia. These battles of the brain were highly competitive as the winning team went home with $100 in EagleOne money!

In addition to hosting trivia nights, the Underground Programming Council threw game shows into the mix every once in a while to keep things interesting. This year the Underground was turned into the sets of Lingo, The Price is Right, Are You Smarter than Your Professor, and American Idol to give students yet another chance to win EagleOne money and great prizes!

STAND UP comedy night

Though UMW students spent most weeknights in the Underground at bingo or open mic, Friday nights brought hilarious comedians. This year, Giant Productions hit a homerun with their comedy series, which featured the musical styling of comedian Jen Kwok and the hilarious antics of Jessi Campbell, Shane Mouser, and Jarrod Harris, to name a few. Though all the comedic performances were great, the highlight of the series came when Giant Productions teamed up with the Underground Programming Council and the Biology Club to bring the very first Lawlz for Ballz event on campus to promote awareness for testicular cancer. While several talented UMW student comedians kicked off the show, the night was concluded by featured act Kyle Kinane. Kinane's performance was so fantastic that students left the Great Hall excited for the remaining portion of the Friday night series.

This year the UMW Women's Cross Country team began the season strong with a third place finish at the JMU Invitational. As the only non-Division I school, the Eagles were proud to make their mark early in the season. The team went on to take 10th place at the Dickinson College Long-Short Invitation. Leading the team in the 6k race was sophomore Elizabeth Green with a 25:31 finish. In the 4k race, senior Dawn Rainbolt led her team with a 17:04 finish. Green continued her stellar season as the top finisher at the Paul Short and Gettysburg Invitationals. Most impressively, the team took second place overall at the snowy CAC Championships in York, Pennsylvania and 8th at the NCAA Division III South/Southeast Regional Championships in Seguin, Texas.

Under the guidance of head coach Stan Soper, the Men's Cross Country team certainly excelled this year. Starting off with a fourth place finish at James Madison University, the team earned the 7th ranking in the region by the United States Cross Country/Track and Field Coaches' Association. At their second meet, the Dickinson College Long-Short Invitational, junior Sean Healy led the team in the 8k with a time of 27:55, while senior Stephen Harrison finished first for the Eagles in the 4k with a 13:00 finish. As a result, Healy earned CAC Men's Cross Country Runner of the Week in late September. As the season progressed, the men moved to 6th in the regional ranking and finished fourth at the Paul Short Invitational and third at the Gettysburg Invitational. At the CAC Championship, the team finished second, with sophomore Daniel Ache finished in fifth place overall with a time of 29:05. The season concluded with a 9th place finish at the NCAA Division III South/Southeast Regional Championships. Healy finished 22nd overall and earned himself All-Region honors.

The Lady Eagles were hard at work this season, scoring top numbers for the UMW Women's Soccer Team. Particularly, sophomores Tina Rader and Erin Reynolds and senior Amy Olson were all honored with CAC Player of the Week accolades, while senior goalkeeper Tina Brehm was honored as the CAC Defensive Player of the Week in mid-September. Going in to the CAC Championships, the team was able to move past York College of Pennsylvania with a 2-1 win in overtime to advance to the semifinals against Salisbury. Though the team lost to Salisbury, UMW stood strong with three players named to the All-CAC Team. Rader was named to the first team, while Reynolds and senior Karen Strat were placed on the second team. In addition to her many recognitions, Rader was also named to the Virginia Sports Information Directors Association's All-State Team! The team finished the season with a 9-7-2 record and look forward another year of competition.

In his inaugural season as Head Coach of UMW's Men's Soccer team, Jason Kilby has a lot to be proud of. Beginning the season with many injuries, the Eagles fought through adversity to deliver a thrilling homecoming game against Wesley College. Sophomore Tommy Sangbouasy scored the overtime goal with no assistance, making for one of the most memorable homecoming games in recent history! Following the win, freshman goalkeeper Tyler Back was named CAC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance with three stellar saves. At season's end, the team fell to York College of Pennsylvania in the CAC Semifinals. As a result of their outstanding play, senior Brad Sims was named to the All-CAC First Team, while sophomore David Heller was named to the second team.

Along with the much individual recognition throughout the season, it has been announced that former coach Roy Gordon is to be inducted into the Virginia-DC Soccer Hall of Fame in recognition of his success throughout his career at UMW.

As the first team to grace the floor of the Anderson Center for intercollegiate competition, the Lady Eagles Volleyball team was eager to leave a mark on the new facility. Igniting the crowd during the first home match of the season, the team was proud to capture a win over Marymount to mark the rise of Eagle Nation in the Anderson Center. The season continued with top performances by senior Katie Shiflett and sophomore Kaitlynn Wickersham, who were later named to the All-CAC team, Shiflett on the first team and Wickersham on the second. The season concluded with a loss in the semifinals of the CAC tournament to Salisbury University.

The UMW Field Hockey team had a great group of girls this year, with no less than five players named to the All-CAC teams. Though the team, ranked 18th, finished with a loss to Wesley College in the semifinals of the CAC tournament, the team earned an impressive record of 15-5 for the season. Senior Morgan Jones and junior Lisa Sharney were named to the All-CAC First Team, while junior Florence George, sophomore Caitlin Baker, and freshman Amy Abernathy were named to the second team. In addition, Abernathy was named CAC Rookie of the Year. In addition to her recognition on the All-CAC First Team, Jones was awarded a spot on the All-Region team by the National Field Hockey Coaches' Association, while Sharney and Baker were named as second team selections. To top off their success, Jones was named as a second team All-American, while Abernathy was selected as a member of the Division III All-Rookie team.

The legendary UMW Women's Swim Team began the season at American University for the annual Potomac Valley Relays. Competing against Division I schools, the Lady Eagles held their ground to finish in a respectable 6th place. As the season went on, the women defended their years of success with a string of victories. Eventually, the Lady Eagles claimed their 22nd straight Championship title with a final score of 924.5, having surpassed second place by a whopping 246-point lead. As a result of another winning season, senior Megan DeSmit and sophomore Amber Kerico were invited to the NCAA Division III Championships. DeSmit swam the 100 and 200 yard breaststroke and the 200 yard freestyle, while Kerico swam the 100 and 200 yard breaststroke and the 100 yard butterfly. In the end, Kerico was able to claim All-American status with her outstanding performance in the 200 yard breaststroke!

As the defenders of a 11 year run as CAC Champions, the Men's swimming team sought to continue its tradition of excellence with yet another award-winning season. Most impressively, freshmen Alex Anderson came on board to break the CAC record in the 200 yard breaststroke with a time of 2:06.47 and earn two recognitions as CAC Swimmer of the Week. In addition, senior Billy Norfolk was also recognized as CAC Swimmer of the Week mid-season. Finishing the season having earned its 12th straight CAC Championship, the team was proud to send Anderson to the NCAA Division III Championships to compete in the 50 yard freestyle, 400 yard IM, and 200 yard breaststroke. Anderson's strong performance earned him All-American status in the 400 yard IM!

Ranked 16th in the NCAA Division III Preseason Poll, the Women's Basketball team started the season with a hunger for success. In its opening game against Washington and Lee, seniors Jenna McRae and Katie Wimmer both broke 1,000 career points. The two went on to earn CAC Player of the Week honors along with junior Carol Dye. Ultimately, the team finished the regular season undefeated and claimed the conference championship on their home court in the brand-new Anderson Center against York College.

Though the Lady Eagles sparked much excitement in the CACs, the team's hunger continued to drive its success. Defeating Keuka College, Messiah College, and Lebanon Valley College, the team geared up for its appearance in the Elite Eight game against George Fox University. Taking spirit into their own hands, student-fans, dubbed the 'Courtside Crazies', made sure the Lady Eagles got the support they deserved at every game. Unfortunately, the team's success came to an end, but both McRae and Wimmer were named to the D3Hoops.com All-Region and Richmond Times-Dispatch All-State teams. In addition, Wimmer was given All-American status and Head Coach Deena Applebury was named a finalist as WBCA National Coach of the Year.

Supported by the first Rise of Eagle Nation event, the Men's Basketball team was inspired to succeed throughout the 2011-2012 season. Starting 1-1 at the UMW Tipoff Classic, the team moved to take on North Carolina Wesleyan College and Shenandoah University at the South Region Challenge. Coming out of that tournament with two wins, the team continued its success by remaining undefeated in the Capitol Athletic Conference through mid-January. Moving from the regular season into CAC Championships, the men were able to defeat Hood College and move to the championship game against York College of Pennsylvania. Unfortunately, York was able to squeak past the Eagles to claim the championship, leaving the team hungry for a victory in the 2012-2013 season.

Coming off a second place finish in the Capitol Athletic Conference in 2011, the Lady Eagles were eager for another shot at the championship this year. Following two sweeps of conference teams Hood College and Wesley College, senior Morgan Lamon was named CAC Player of the Week, while freshman Hannah Otterman was named CAC Pitcher of the Week. In the following weeks, the team's performance earned it the #2 seed in the conference, while both Lamon and Otterman were honored yet again as CAC Player and Pitcher of the Week. In the double elimination CAC Tournament, the Eagles were unable to capture top honors with a loss to both Frostburg University and Salisbury University. However, the season ended on a high note with Otterman named CAC Rookie of the Year. In addition, Lamon and seniors Amanda Adams and Michelle Durnavich were named to the All-CAC First Team, while junior Brandee Adams was named to the second team.

Finishing out a tough season with a 13-20-1 record, the Eagle Baseball team rallied around the successes of junior pitchers Torey Mancari and Mike Straub. Mancari finished the season with an ERA of 3.36 with 88 shutouts in 64.1 innings. These impressive statistics earned Mancari a position on the All-CAC First Team. Straub finished the season with an ERA of 2.52 in 53.2 innings, earning himself a spot on the All-CAC Second Team. Junior Joey Carleton also found success, leading his team with a .444 batting average.

Ranked in the Intercollegiate Women's Lacrosse Coaches Association (IWLCA) preseason poll in 17th place, UMW Women's Lacrosse team had a whirlwind season filled with many awards and accolades. First, following outstanding performances against Hood, Marymount, and Guilford, junior Keller Torrey was named CAC Co-Player of the Week. As the season went on, the team was led by senior Catherine Kennedy with a record-breaking 11 goals in a win over Marymount in the CAC Quarterfinals. Unfortunately, the team fell to York College in the CAC Semifinals, but was able to rally around the successes of many of the team's members. Seniors Kennedy and Allie Kimmelman along with junior Katie Mastropaolo were named to the All-CAC First Team, while Torrey, senior Jenny Atmar, and sophomore Jenna Petrucelli were named to the conference's second team.

Moving into the NCAA Tournament, UMW earned a win over Washington and Lee and moved into the second round against #2 seed, Cortland. Following a disappointing loss in the second round, the team was yet again overwhelmed by the success of individual players. Specifically, Kennedy, Kimmelman, and Mastropaolo were placed on the IWLCA All-Region first team. Atmar and Torrey were honored as members of the second team. Kennedy and Kimmelman went on to become IWLCA All-Americans and played in the IWLCA/Under Armor Senior All-Star Game.

Ending the season on a great high, Kennedy was voted as the 2012 All-State College Division Women's Lacrosse Player of the Year, while Head Coach Dana Hall was honored as All-State Coach of the Year.

2012 marked another successful year for the Women's Tennis team as it claimed its 9th straight CAC title. Sophomore Lindsay Raulston was named All-CAC Player of the Year, while freshman Alexandra Ritter was named All-CAC Rookie of the Year. Joining Raulston and Ritter on the All-CAC Singles team were junior Catherine Malcolm and seniors Michelle Meadows and Jocelyn Lewis. The All-CAC Doubles team was made up of Meadows, Lewis, Raulston, Malcolm, sophomore Anna Richman, and junior Cassandra Bowman. In addition to the players' success, Head Coach Patrick Cotullo was named Dr. Ed Hegmann Coach of the Year for the 7th straight season. The award was named after Dr. Hegmann this year in honor of his retirement from UMW and his success as UMW's former head tennis coach. In the post season, the team fell in the second round of the NCAA Division III Tournament. Raulston competed in the Division III Women's Tennis Singles Championship and fell in the first round.

Capturing its 13th straight CAC Championship, the Men's Tennis team has a spectacular season. As a mark of their superior talent, both the singles and doubles All-CAC First teams were made up of UMW players. The singles first team was made up of freshmen Evan Charles and Tyler Carey, sophomore Alex Blahkin, junior Will Apperson, and seniors Riley Bayer and Kevin Aquino. The doubles first team was comprised of freshmen Charles, Carey, Donato Rizzolo, and Kaleb Nyugen, Blahkin, and Bayer. Charles was also named All-CAC Co-Rookie of the Year, while Head Coach Todd Helbling was named CAC Coach of the Year for the fourth straight year.

During the post season, the team went on to capture wins in the first and second rounds of the NCAA Division III tournament, but ultimately fell to Kenyon in the third round. However, Rizzolo and Charles went on to reach the NCAA Doubles Semifinals before their season can to a close.

This season the Women's Track and Field team kicked off the year with a bang at the Liberty Kickoff Invitational. Notably, junior Brooke Thompson hit 33 feet 11.25 inches in the triple jump and completed the 60 meter hurdles in 9.8 seconds. Freshman Trinity Smith also made her mark crossing the finish line at 5:42.75 in the mile. The team continued to see success throughout the season, but had its shining moment after capturing second place in the CC Championship. Again, Thompson excelled with a strong 15.22 second finish in the 100 meter hurdles, while junior Michelle Sutherland finished the 400 meter hurdles with a 1:04.16 time.

The Men's Track and Field team had a lot to celebrate this season with strong finishes in multiple competitions. Most impressively, senior Chris Marino was honored as CAC Track and Field Athlete of the Week in late March following impressive performances in the 3000 meter steeplechase and 3000 meter run at the Battleground Relays. Continuing his success, Marino placed second in the 3000 meter steeplechase at the CAC Championships. In addition to Marino's success, sophomore Dalton Echard took second place in the 400 meter hurdles with a time of 55.69. Lastly, the team rallied around their 4x400 relay team, comprised of senior Matt Bechtel, junior Kevin Robertson, sophomore Allan Meyer, and freshman Chris Anderson, as they took second place in the CACs. All of these successes combined to solidify a third place finish for the Eagles!

CHARLES ROSS PATTERSON II

Ross,

We are beyond proud of your achievements and, more importantly, the young man you have become. You have reached a pinnacle that few attain, the world is before you. Always remember that learning is the doorway and sharing that knowledge is a gift. You have both the gift and desire. You live and love history. We can't wait to see what lies ahead.

Much Love,
Dad, Mom and Colleen

JORDAN PITT

Congratulations Jordan! You made it down the slippery slope of college, graduating in 3 and $\frac{1}{2}$ years. You've made your family very proud. We know that you have many more great accomplishments ahead of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Alan and Bryan

JACK MULREY

Very best wishes to you, Jack!

Lots of love from Mom, Dad, Kate, Clare, and your devoted pets!

AMANDA JOY JOHNSON

Congratulations to our daughter, Amanda Joy, who is beautiful, talented, smart, compassionate, and loved by her brother Walter, her sisters Sam and Hannah, her grandparents Bill and Nancy, Ding and Remy, her parents Drew and Joy, her boyfriend Bryan, and all her aunts and uncles and cousins and friends.

You have inspired us with your high goals, dedication, and hard work.

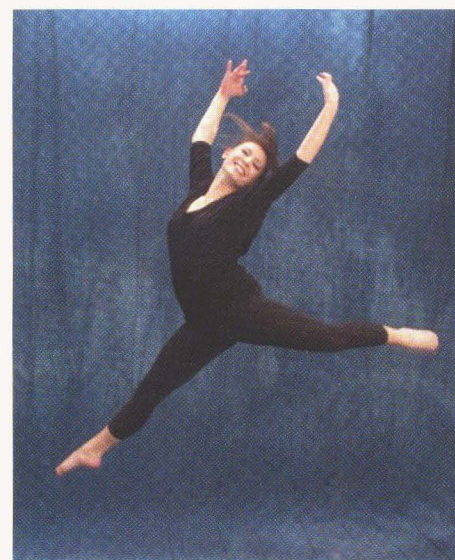

Your joyful exuberance is contagious. You make our world a better place just by being you.

We are so proud of your accomplishments in dance, relationships, work, missions, and academics.

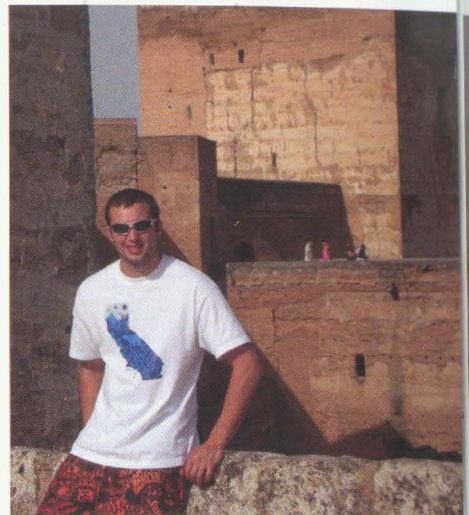

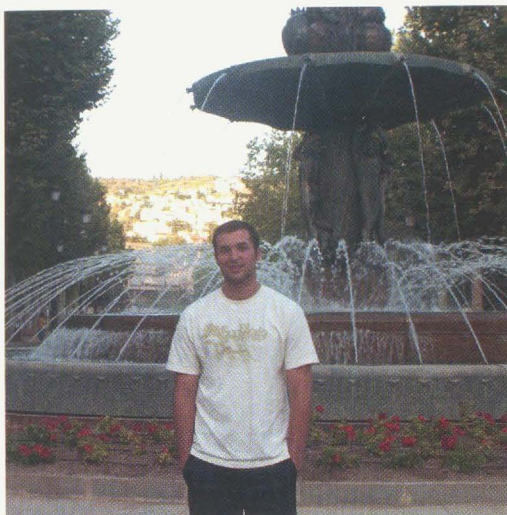

We can't wait to see what your future holds and know that, wherever you go and whatever you do, your future will SHINE!

We love you forever and always,
Mom and Dad

ZACK ZAHL

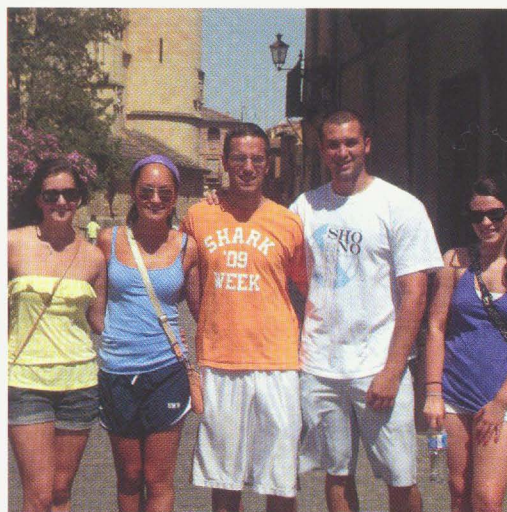

Zack, Congratulations, You did it! I am so very proud of you. You are now ready to go out and achieve the many successes that await you. I am excited for you as you start on your new adventure. No matter where you go or what you do, you will always be in my heart. May God bless you always. Love, Mom

Congratulations. We're so proud of you graduating and hope you achieve the future goals you strive for. No matter what gets in your way we will always have your back. Remember to always keep our dreams alive. You might not always win in FIFA but we all love you and wish you the best. Love, your cousins
We are all so proud of you! May God continue to bless you as you start your new journey! Love, Aunt Margie, Uncle Jerry, Michael, Megan and Carly

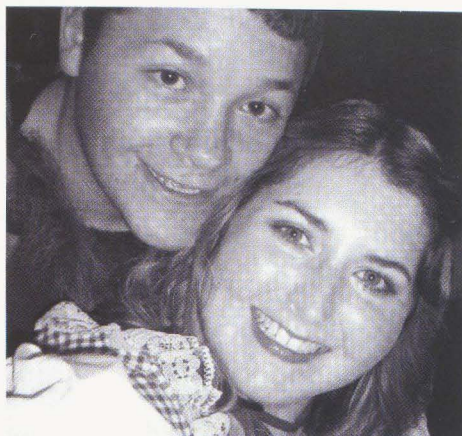

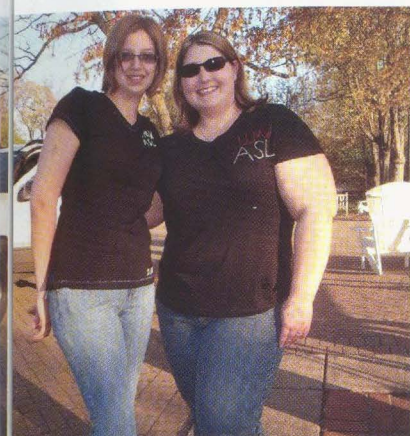

Hey Dude, You are really cool. You have been on the right path for 4 years. Stay there! Love, Tom

Congratulations and best wishes for your future. God Bless! Love, Aunt Theresa and Uncle David

Hey Zack, You studied really, really hard, put in the hours, battled the frustrations, and gave it your blood, sweat and tears and it has paid off. Congratulations!
Love, Grandma

JAMIE WAITE

Dear Jamie,

Our wish for you is for you to live life to its fullest. Stand on your tippy toes to reach for the stars. Be proud of who you are and all of your accomplishments. Say only words you mean and do things you say you are going to do in life. When life shuts one door that means another bigger door will open with more meaning.

We are proud of you for Graduating from UMW and working so hard to get where you are today. Congratulations for being Vice President of Talk to the Hands 2011-2012. When one Chapter closes another one opens.

Love you always,
Mom and Dad

REBECCA WELKER

Rebecca,

When two majors, how did you ever find the time to create and lead the Reenactor's Club? Perhaps it was the inspiration of living on the hallowed ground of Fredericksburg Battlefield for four years.

We're so proud of you as you graduate!
Love - Mom, Dad, and Thomas

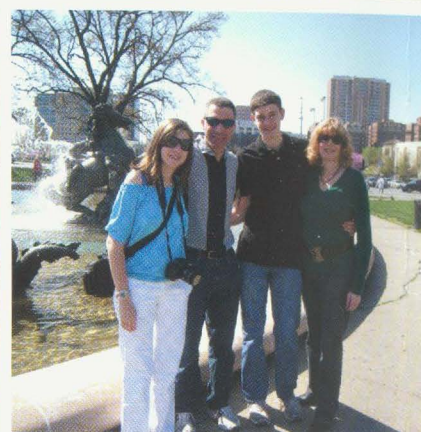

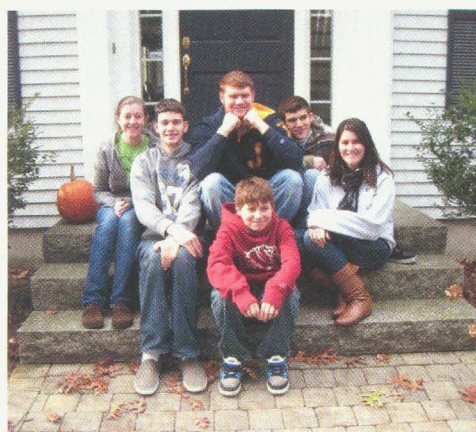

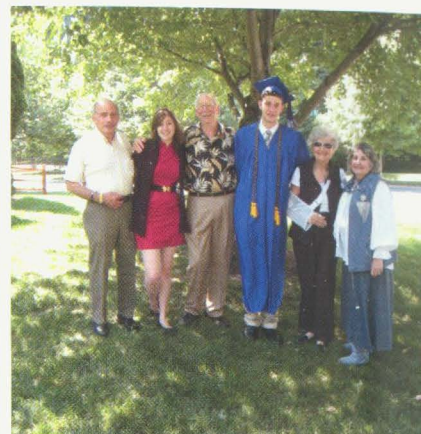

MANDI SOLOMON

Mandi,

From the very beginning we knew you would be special and do great things. Your spirit and determination to be a leader is an inspiration to us. We are so proud of all your accomplishments and we know that the future holds amazing things for you. Success will follow you no matter what path you take once you graduate. You are so dear and important to us and we love you from the bottom of our hearts.

Mom, Dad, Ryan and Abbie

SHELLYE BURROW

Congratulations, Shellye!

Our Yellow Rose of Texas

May God Bless you and keep you always –

Lots of love, MaMa, Sam, Candice, Josh,
Chris, Gloria and Grandad

PRARTHANA GURUNG

Dear Prarthana,

With the guidance of the Lord, you have come a long way in your journey - preschool, elementary, middle school, high school, college, and now you are finally done. Graduation from the University of Mary Washington is a milestone achievement in your life. We love you, and are very proud of you today.

We admire your kind and caring nature, capability to work hard, patience, and ability to differentiate between right and wrong. We see that these challenging four years at UMW have brightened your strong personality, and given you confidence to reach the limit of your imagination as well as help others to reach theirs.

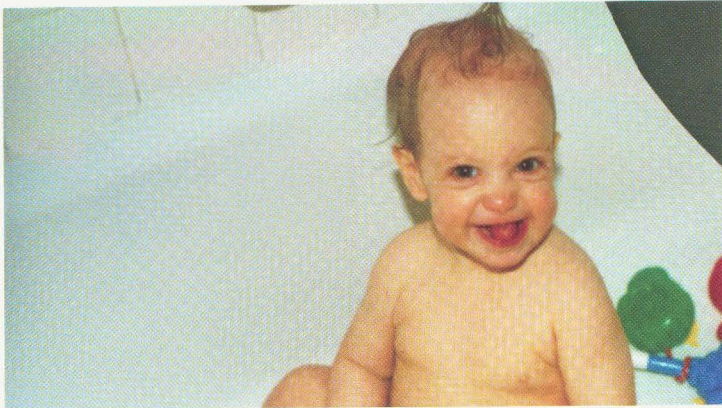

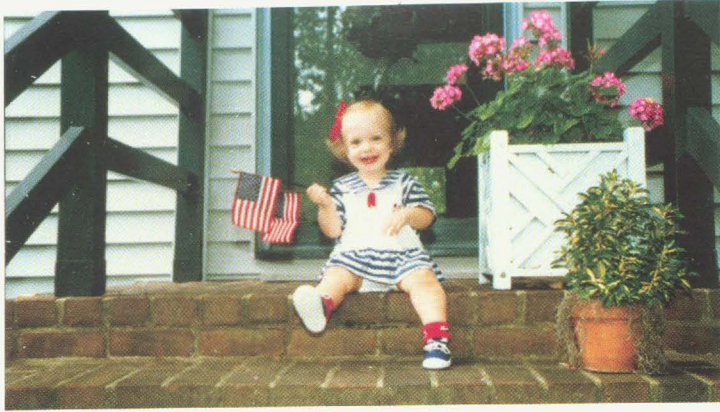

We congratulate you for your achievements. Our very best wishes are always with you for any endeavor you take in future. May the Lord always shower you with his blessings and guide you every step you take.

CONGRATULATIONS!

With lots of love,
Buwa, Aama and Vardaan

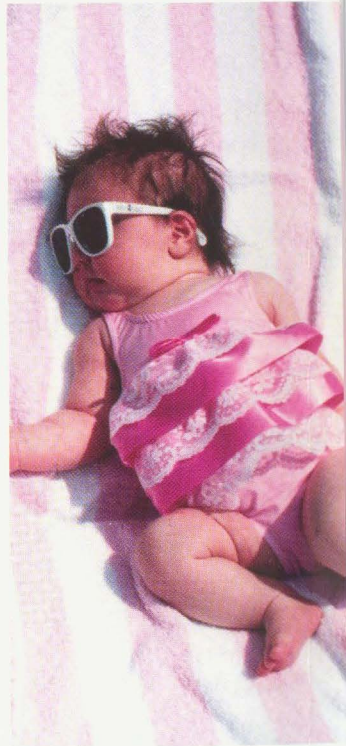

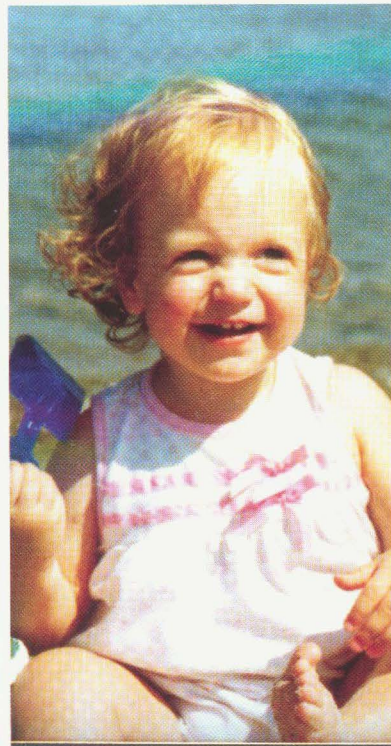

NANI MOSKAL

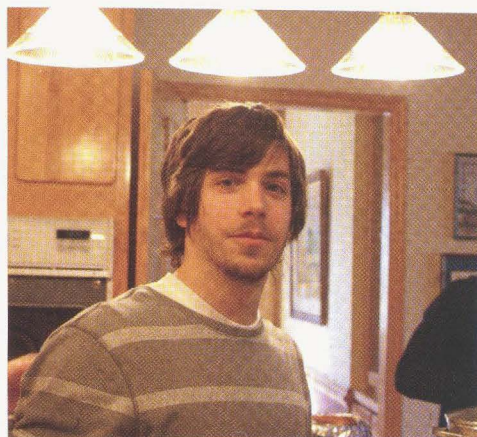

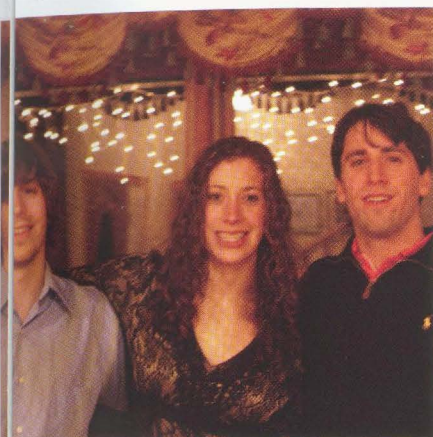

Dearest Nani,

We are so proud of the woman you've become. What a pleasure it has been to have you as our daughter. We've cherished every moment with you, and we look forward to watching you continue your wonderful journey through life.

With all our love,
Mom and Dad

CHRISTIAN KARRS

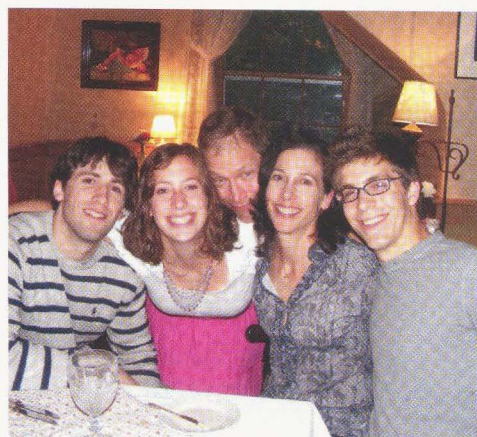

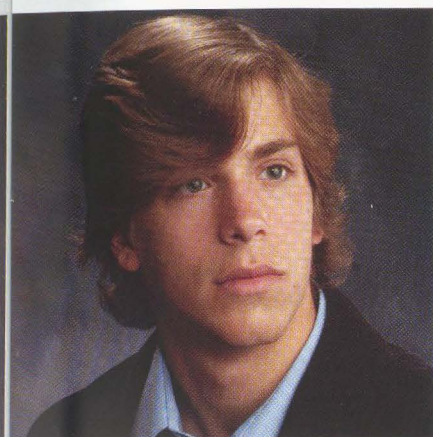

Christian Casimir Karrs

We are honored and proud to call you son, and brother, Congratulations!!!
We love you.

Dad, Mom, Jeremiah and Maggie

MORGAN MANGOLD

As Morgan's parents, we have watched, with joy & pride, as she has completed her studies at UMW with passion & dedication. She has met the challenges of her college life & in return, has earned the first college degree of our family.
Morgan has spent her time at UMW becoming a beautiful, intelligent person, ready to face a life full of promise. Morgan is our bright hope for the future.

Congratulations to our Boogal

A LETTER from the editor

Fellow Eagles,

Words can only begin to scratch the surface of how awesome this school year has been. Regardless of the natural disasters (hurricanes/earthquakes) that tested our strength, Mary Washington stood strong and proud! All that was achieved this year came from the strength of the students coming together as one community to support every Mary Washington Eagle.

The Battlefield is meant to capture those events and memories of our campus coming together as one at Mary Washington, whether it is on campus or in the community. This would not be possible if it were not for the students, staff, faculty, administration, and everyone else in between who work so hard to make Mary Washington the best campus it could be.

A special thanks goes out to every student, staff, faculty, parent, administrator, and supporter of Mary Washington. Without all of you, the Battlefield would not be able to recognize all the hard work that is put into this University to make it a place where every UMW Eagle feels at home. Of course the Battlefield would not be possible without the support of the staff and students who work hard to coordinate and attend these events so that the memories carry on throughout the years.

Thank you to the Office of Student Activities and Engagement (Cheryl, Becky, and Steven) for all the help, support, and work you put in to provide Mary Washington students with fun activities 24 hours a day, 15 weeks per semester! Thank you to the Battlefield student staff who worked so hard not only in the production of the yearbook, but also for attending as many events as possible. Without your dedication none of this would be possible. And a super special thank you to Whitney Hanlin, our 2011-2012 advisor, for all the work you put into the yearbook. Without your dedication and guidance the Battlefield would not have come as far as it has today.

As we conclude this year, it is clear our common identity as UMW Eagles is championed in this edition of the Battlefield. Therefore, I hope we have captured the heart and soul of UMW, so you may look back on the year with joy and remember what it means to be an Eagle!

Sincerely,

Karmel James

Theme: The theme "Identity: What It Means to be an Eagle" was chosen for the ninety-ninth volume of the Battlefield by the staff members with help from adviser Whitney Hanlin. The book follows student life at Mary Washington and encompasses the true identity of UMW Eagles. Publishing: The Battlefield was published by Taylor Yearbooks, 1550 W. Mockingbird Lane, Dallas, TX 75235. Ashby Smith served as sales representative. The press run was 2,000 copies, each with 320 full-color pages printed with CMYK process. Cover: The cover was designed by Editor-in-Chief Karmel James and adviser Whitney Hanlin. The over is 9" x 12", process four color on lithocote material with gloss lamination. Hardware and Software: The Battlefield was produced using the Taylor Yearbooks online design program StudioWorks by staff members using a combination of their personal computers and an Acer desktop and an HP laptop, provided by Taylor Yearbooks. Advertisements: Senior Ads were sold for $100 for a full page, $50 for a half page, and $25 for a quarter page. Typography: Olympia-Heavy (copy titles), Olympia-Medium (copy subtitles), Olympia-Xlight (copy font), Olympia-ExtraBoldCond (colored copy font), OlympiaXlightCond (photo courtesies). Photography: Underclassmen photos were provided by the University ID Center and were placed and cropped by staff members. Faculty photos were provided by the Office of News and Public Information and were placed and cropped by staff members. Senior portraits were taken by appointment with Herff Jones, 2020 New Dorset Road, Powhatan, VA 23139. Seniors were notified of available dates through email and mail announcements. The photos were then cropped and placed by staff members. Sports photographs were taken by Clint Often. Writing and Design: All body copy and headlines were written by staff members. Dividers and section layouts were designed by staff members with the help of adviser Whitney Hanlin. Distribution: The Battlefield was distributed in Fall 2012. Books were also mailed to seniors' permanent addresses on file with the Registrar. Funding for the Battlefield was provided by the SAE Finance Committee. Contact: The Battlefield office is located in the UMW Apartments Clubhouse, 1301 College Avenue, Fredericksburg, VA 22401 or available at battlefieldybkc@gmail.com.
